Jalan Haji Jamat Rt.03/005 No.68 Buaran, Serpong, Tangerang Selatan 15316

I'm Surya, an undergraduate student at Universitas Pembangunan Nasional Veteran Jakarta, with a strong interest in data science and data analysis. Beyond the classroom, I actively engage in projects and immerse myself in online courses and workshops to stay at the forefront of the dynamic landscape of data and programming. Proficient in Python, R, SQL, and various data visualization libraries, I am committed to leveraging these tools to derive meaningful insights from complex datasets.

My enthusiasm for data-driven solutions is not confined to academics. I believe in the power of collaboration and continuous learning. I am always seeking opportunities to contribute to real-world projects and connect with like-minded professionals in the data science community.
